

Pay Your Clients To Hire You.

In difficult economic times, justifying your product and service offerings becomes all the more important. By partnering with TaxBreak, the experts in new hire tax credit recovery, you can offer your clients a unique financial opportunity – to increase their cash flow, simply by hiring you.

Our ability to seamlessly integrate our tax credit recovery services with countless human resources solutions, affords our partners broader service offerings, and a means for their clients to increase their cash flow. From technical integrations to referral relationships we offer a wide range of partnering opportunities to perfectly compliment your products and services.

Why Choose TaxBreak?

When choosing a tax credit recovery company as a partner it is important to choose wisely, as efficiency and compliance are the key not only your client's profitability, but your own. Our ability to proactively drive the tax recovery process leads to bottom line growth; Many of our clients have increased their compliance with TaxBreak versus their preceding tax recovery company. We demonstrate the same superior commitment to the clients we are afforded through referral partners, as we do with our own customers.

Organizations demand customer service, accountability and flexible reporting, and we are able to offer superior results. Taxbreak is the largest privately held tax credit company and is a three time INC 500 winner with over thirteen years of experience. The following factors also play a role in why our partners can expect greater returns, for themselves as well as their clients:

- Our sole focus is tax credit recovery. This translates to 100% dedication to increasing our client's cash flow.
- TaxBreak's proprietary, fully automated system increases compliance, and the potential for tax credits.
- We are intimately familiar with over 3,000 State Tax Credits, and WOTC programs. Our ability to process all hiring credits ensures clients can capitalize on all financial opportunities.
- Our highly accountable customer service team manages the entire tax credit recovery process relieving client's internal resources.
- The flexibility of our system affords the ability to customize tax credit recovery to you and your client's existing processes.
- Our positive relationship with government agencies increases our efficiency – that means faster, easier returns.

Types of Partnerships

Referral Partnerships

Referral Partnerships are developed between the agent and sales representatives on the field level. TaxBreak looks to expand key business contacts by involving partner's sales representatives in their respective territories and maintaining a broad knowledge of each company's products.

Integration Partnerships

Integration Partners can easily drive revenue through offering tax credit processing seamlessly via their existing user interface. Integrated Partners capture pertinent information during the application process either directly or by a recruiter, and then enter it into the system, providing the ability to quickly scan candidates for eligibility.

Private Label Partnerships

Private Label Partnerships are available for companies looking to add tax credit processing services to their existing offerings and exponentially increase revenue. Ultimately, Private Label Partners own the client relationship, as TaxBreak works behind the scenes to ensure each and every tax credit is accounted for, certified, and documented.

TaxBreak always welcomes the opportunity to discuss a potential partnership.
